Contextual Information

This step allows you to provide a picture of your class to give the rater a better understanding of your instruction and decision-making skills.

Overview

Many factors can affect teaching and learning; these include community, district, and/or individual school/classroom/student factors.

The information you gather about your teaching and learning context and about your individual students will help give a perspective to the rater who will be scoring your submissions.

This part of your submission will not be scored, but the information you include should reflect implications regarding your instructional choices.

Your response must be limited to 1,500 characters (approximately one-half typed page). No artifacts can be attached to this Contextual Information textbox.

- a. Describe your classroom. Include the grade level, content area, subject matter, and number of students. Provide relevant information about any of your students with special needs.
- b. Describe any physical, social, behavioral, and developmental factors that may impact the instruction that occurs in your classroom. Mention any linguistic, cultural, and health considerations that may also impact teaching and learning.
- c. Describe any factors related to the school and surrounding community that may impact the teaching and learning that occurs in your classroom.

Enter your response in the textbox below.

Step 1: Planning the Assessment

This step allows you to demonstrate your knowledge of appropriate assessment tools to meet student needs and the learning goals. This step should focus exclusively on planning for the assessment.

Textbox 2.1.1: Selecting a Single Assessment

Activity: Developing an Assessment

Select/design an assessment from a lesson that you have developed and will teach to your class. Your assessment should

- assess state and/or national content standards,
- assess the learning goal(s) for the lesson, and
- include a rubric/scoring guide.

Your assessment should also be able to produce quantitative or qualitative data to be used for analysis. Once you select/design the assessment, respond to the guiding prompts below.

Guiding Prompts

- a. How does this assessment align with standards, learning goal(s), the lesson you are teaching, and student needs?
- b. What data did you use to establish a baseline for student growth related to this lesson's learning goal(s)?
- c. Describe the rubric/scoring guide you have selected/designed. How will you communicate its use to your students?
- d. What evidence of student learning will you collect from this assessment? How will you collect that data?
Provide a rationale for your data-collection method.

Enter your response in the textbox below.

- Link representative pages of the data used to establish a baseline (maximum of two pages) from your Library of Artifacts to the first sentence discussing the baseline data.
- Link representative pages of the selected assessment (maximum of two pages) from your Library of Artifacts to the first sentence discussing the selected assessment.
- Link a representative page of the rubric/scoring guide (maximum of one page) from your Library of Artifacts to the first sentence discussing your rubric/scoring guide.

Textbox 2.1.2: Teaching Strategies and Student Activities

Guiding Prompts

- a. What student activities and groupings will you use during this assessment? Provide a rationale for your choices.
- b. What materials, resources, and technology will you use during this assessment? Provide a rationale for your choices.

Enter your response in the textbox below.

Textbox 2.1.3: The Focus Students

Guiding Prompts

- a. Choose and describe two Focus Students who reflect different learning needs and for whom you will modify this assessment.
- b. Based on their specific learning needs, how will you modify the assessment for each of the two students?

Enter your response in the textbox below.

Step 2: Administering the Assessment and Analyzing the Data

This step allows you to demonstrate your ability to administer an assessment and collect, record, and analyze the data.

Textbox 2.2.1: Analysis of the Assessment Data and Student Learning for the Whole Class

Activity 1: Administering and Analyzing an Assessment

Guiding Prompts

- a. Based on your baseline data and the resulting data shown in your graphic representation, analyze the assessment data to determine the amount of student learning. What evidence did you gather about the students' progress toward the learning goal(s)?
- b. How did you share both sets of the data with the whole class to help students understand their progress toward the learning goal(s)? Provide specific examples from the data to support your description.

Enter your response in the textbox below. Link the graphic representation (maximum of two pages) from your Library of Artifacts to the beginning of the first sentence in your response.

Type your response here.
