WESTMINSTER COLLEGE
WHO DO YOU WANT TO BE?

Westminster offers 35 majors and 12 pre-professional programs to design your own course of study. Your academic advisor, alumni mentors, and the Center for Career Development will make sure you stay on track.

"At Westminster, everyone wants the best for you.
My first year was a great academic challenge for me, but I made a smooth transition.
With the help of my seminar mentors and the tutoring program, I made the Dean’s list my very first semester!"

- Molly Dwyer '16

THE RESOURCES TO SUCCEED

Our Academic Resource Center provides free, individualized assistance in math, writing, and study skills.

(pre-med, now at AT Still University of Osteopathic Medicine)
DURING YOUR VISIT,
YOU'LL DISCOVER . . .

You won't run out of things to do. Most Westminster students live on campus, a full, high-energy experience with activities and options every day and every night.

We're a smaller campus, but participation is huge. Clubs, leadership roles, Greek life, intramural sports, and more - Our opportunity-to-student ratio is second to none.

You'll eat well here. See where students live, learn, and eat!

Our faculty do more than teach. They interact with students in and out of class, and they know them by name.

Call us at 800-888-9266 to schedule your visit today. Visit www.westminster-mo.edu/go/visit to view upcoming visit days and RSVP for your preferred date.
GLOBAL EXPERIENCE

Westminster ranks as one of the most diverse colleges in the nation—with students from more than 70 countries.

Friends, leadership opportunities, and a good time—Westminster offers more than 60 clubs and organizations for students to participate in, from the Pre-Health Care Professionals to the Blue Blazers Investment Committee to the Ultimate Frisbee Club.

Westminster competes at the NCAA Division III level and is a member of the St. Louis Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (SLIAC) and the Upper Midwest Athletic Conference (UMAC) for football.

As NCAA DIII athletes, Westminster Blue Jays succeed on multiple levels, serving as campus leaders and finding support from faculty and coaches, on and off the playing field, to achieve more than they ever imagined.

Change requires leaders of character and vision, who seek to better the lives of those around them – whether their family, community, or beyond. At Westminster, leader development and civic engagement go hand in hand. We help students understand the role they play in leading and creating positive change in the world.

Leadership, Starting Day

All first-year students participate in a seminar course, LST 101: The Leader Within. Based on the idea that you need to lead yourself before leading others, the Leader Within helps students explore leadership principles, assess their own interests, and identify opportunities where they can make meaningful contributions.
The World of Westminster
You'll work and live in a global environment. Doesn't it make sense to learn in one?
Westminster ranks as one of the most diverse small colleges in the nation – with students from over 70 countries.

PREPARE TO ENGAGE
Ours is a smaller campus, but you'd be hard pressed to find a college, large or small, that offers more opportunities, more ways to get involved.
Our Westminster Family. Westminster is the quintessential smaller-school environment—a welcoming place where you're known by name and where friendships are easily made. This is a community, a very close one. This is home.

A Great Start. Westminster Seminar is our nationally recognized first-year program designed to help new students transition from high school to college. Students study topics of interest, work with mentors, find ways to get involved on campus, and more.

The Quad. The Quad, our freshman housing quadrangle, helps new students bond and adjust to college life as they live and learn together in eight-person, suite-style living.
A Legacy of Success

Our Center for Career Development provides a four-year, step-by-step success plan to help students fully prepare for career and graduate school opportunities. Plus, Westminster alumni are known for their success and for paying it forward - opening doors for fellow Blue Jays starting their careers.

ACTIVE LEARNING

- Computer science students build computers and networks from scratch.
- Political science students go into the field and help with the campaigns of local political candidates.
- Anatomy students benefit from one of the few undergraduate, hands-on cadaver programs in the country.

Confidence Acquired Here. You will learn to think well, write well, and speak well at Westminster. Challenged, but equally supported, you’ll grow into a confident scholar – as you become good, then better, and, ultimately, your best.
"My transition to Westminster was very easy. From my first day on campus, I felt immediately at home. During Welcome Week, our peer mentors were incredibly helpful and encouraging. That first year, upperclassmen were great too. The first week, they helped me to find my classes, and later on, one senior even offered to help revise my paper in an intro class that he was majoring in. Everyone at Westminster is so welcoming and willing to help out."

Mik Ebert '16, St. Louis, MO, International Business major

"Westminster is quite different from other colleges. I have visited. I first realized the college's family atmosphere during the Columns Ceremony. Freshman year, I saw many current students, staff, and family members cheering everyone as we crossed the Columns and entered Westminster's community. Everyone at Westminster cares about each other, especially our alumni."

Da'Shaun Scott '16, St. Louis, MO, Business Communication and Psychology major
"I always thought I was born to be a follower. I never looked on leadership positions until I got to Westminster. Once here, I threw myself into different organizations to get the most out of them. There are countless opportunities to lead here. There are lots of honor societies, clubs, and activities. You can check it all out. All offer opportunities to step out, gain experience and get involved."

Karen Hareman '15, Columbia, MO, Spanish and Education major

"At Westminster, support comes from your teachers, your mentors, your coaches, and your friends. Everyone wants the best for you. My first year was a great academic challenge for me, but with the help of my seminar mentors and the tutoring program, I made the Dean's list my very first semester!"

Molly Dwyer '16, St. Louis, MO, Business Communications major
It's within you – that spark, that passion, ready to be lit. And it is our aim, at Westminster, to provide the inspiration and encouragement needed to ignite it. Here, you'll find every opportunity to challenge your mind, shape your dream into your future, and become the world-changer you aspire to be.

THIS WAY TO SUCCESS
You'll have lots of questions in college, and at Westminster you'll find lots of answers. From our comprehensive Westminster Seminar and academic advising, to our supportive peer leaders and resident advisors, you'll receive the individualized guidance you need to succeed in all areas of college life.

Small Classes, Expert Faculty
With an average class size of students, you'll know your professors and they'll know you. You'll build close relationships with these caring mentors who are leaders in their fields.

The World Awaits

Ours is a uniquely global education where you will learn about the world, experience the world, and make a difference in the world.

- Students from over 70 different countries
- Dozens of majors and minors taught from a global perspective
- One of the only undergraduate Transnational Studies programs in the country
- Over 150 foreign study programs
- Take-A-Friend-Home cultural immersion program
- Overseas service learning opportunities

Active Westminster Westminster is a smaller campus, but our participation is huge. If there were such a thing as an opportunity-to-student ratio, we would put our number up against any college in the country. This is a full, active, immersive college experience – unlike any other.
At Home in Fulton

Fulton, Missouri, is a vibrant small town of around 13,000, and home to Westminster College. With its charming, cobble-stoned downtown and its welcoming, friendly atmosphere, Fulton provides the perfect college town setting - complete with good eateries, coffee houses, shopping, movie theaters, and myriad outdoor activities.

CAMPUS VIEW

Covering 86 tree-shaded acres, our Fulton campus features stately Greek revival architecture atop a stunning hillside setting. From the Columns to the Church of St. Mary Aldermanbury, students take in history and tradition as they cross campus - and everything is within easy walking distance.

ENGAGED LEARNING

- The Blue Blazers, a student investment club, visit New York City and explore the financial world of Wall Street.
- Mathematics students participate in "poetry slams," creatively incorporating mathematical topics.
- Leadership studies students participate in yearlong fundraising and awareness campaigns.

College Fed. Student-Led Each year, our college's administration turns over $250,000 to our student government, with one simple directive: Make student life fun. From there, our student leaders budget and plan, organize and execute, and the result is a calendar filled with student-centered fun.
"I appreciate the diverse atmosphere of each of my classes. At no other college would I learn how weird my Chinese classmate thought Americans were for washing undergarments with the rest of their clothes. I never would have learned Nepal has a month off of school for two fifteen-day festivals. By having classmates from all over the country and world, I am becoming a global learner and leader every time I step into a classroom."

Roberta Burns '17, Monroe City, MO, Business major

"Campus life is alive at Westminster. There are tons of ways to get involved in campus activities and with groups - at almost every hour there is someone awake doing something fun somewhere. It is hard to go a day here without being invited to an event or two. These many events have brought me out of my shell. They have given me the opportunity to get out, have fun, and meet new people while experiencing a lot of many new things."

Jeremy Hill '17, Ashland, MO, Exercise Science and Business major
"I did not want to sit in a large hall with 100 plus other students listening to a lecture by a professor or teaching assistant who did not even know my name or care about what I wanted in life. Here, classes are small and taught by caring professors. There are discussions and active learning opportunities in most every class. In fact, I am not sure if straight lecture classes even exist here. I've benefited from this creative learning approach, I am excited to go to class."

Kyle Kidd, '14, Bloomfield, MO, Biology/Pre-Med major.

"At Westminster, I love that my professors keep me constantly engaged in classroom discussions. I feel that my voice is actually heard. Professors know you by name and each class develops a personality of its own through the engaging atmosphere the smaller classes create. The relationships you develop with professors make you want to give your best in class, and these close relationships transcend the classroom as well."

David McDermott '15, Grubville, MO, Transnational Studies and Political Science major.
Gain valuable

To affect change in the real world, you have to get involved in the real world. At Westminster, students take lessons in theory and apply them in hands-on, experiential ways – from research, internships, and study abroad, to active roles in campus life and leadership.

Evolving Scholars

Westminster students are highly involved in undergraduate research and often present their findings both on and off campus. Our Undergraduate Scholars Forum is an annual event where more than 150 students from over a dozen majors present their scholarship to the campus community.

Next Stop: Bangkok

Westminster offers more than study-abroad programs – from Argentina, France, and Cameroon to Jordan, Nepal, and Thailand. Whatever your destination, you’ll broaden your worldview, grow in your independence, and gain a professional leg up in an increasingly global marketplace.
REAL-WORLD INTERNSHIPS

There's no substitute for experience, which is why over 65 percent of our students participate in internships. An internship brings a practical perspective and invaluable real-world experience, both highly sought after by today's employers.

Recent Student Internships Include:
Alstate Insurance
Anheuser Busch
Bank of America
Disney World
Enterprise Rent-A-Car
General Mills Inc.
Harvard Graduate School of Education
John Deere International
Kansas City Chiefs
Missouri Historical Society
Missouri State Capitol
Missouri Supreme Court
Northwestern Life
Oklahoma Magazine
St. John's Church
St. Mary's Hospital
Target Corp.
U.S. Army Engineering Corps
U.S. Department of Homeland Security
The White House

Perspective It's one thing to read a book about Peru or Japan or Iraq. It's quite another to regularly engage with students who come from those countries. More than 15% of Westminster's students come from abroad, enabling students from different cultures to learn from each other every day.

HANDS-ON LEARNING

- History majors conduct research using the archives of the National Churchill Museum, located on our campus.
- Psychology students participate in internships at the Fulton State Hospital.
- Education students create their own professional web sites.
The Leader in You: With many activities and organizations come many leadership opportunities. Our William Emerson Center for Leadership & Service is the hub of leader development on campus, blending comprehensive training with an active student life to create leadership opportunities all across our campus.

Spiritual Life

Westminster is a diverse college where nearly every Christian denomination and every major world religion is represented. It is our mission to offer support and faith-based activities for students of all faith traditions.

Make a Difference: A full 84% of Westminster students participate in some form of community service—from working in local soup kitchens, to tutoring at schools, to serving as part of service-learning courses in faraway places like Rwanda and Swaziland.
Greek Life

Greek organizations have been an integral part of Westminster life for over 130 years. About half of all Westminster students are members of Greek organizations. The Greek system is a great way to meet others, lead, serve, and make lifelong friends and contacts.

Practical Learning

- Business students engage in semester-long, applied projects such as developing business plans and conducting market analyses.
- Exercise science students learn to take heart rates and blood pressure, exploring body movements and function under stress.
- In a service-learning course, accounting majors offer income tax preparation to low-income individuals.
I had the opportunity to participate in an internship in Rwanda last summer through Humanity For Children, a non-governmental organization. The experience challenged me more than I thought possible. I grew and discovered myself—my strengths, weaknesses, and passions. Someday I hope to be a foreign ambassador and through this experience I was able to ask myself the hard question, 'Is that something I can really do?' I found out the answer is 'Yes'!

Jenna Teter '14, Fresno, CA, Transnational Studies major

The Center for Career Development has provided helpful guidance during my years at Westminster. The assessments such as Focus 2 have helped me to identify my interests. The workshops on resume building and finding internships have been very useful. I've also benefited from the various learning opportunities such as the etiquette dinner and the dress for success program. And, the four-year success plan has helped to keep me on track each year.

Tripti Gill '15, Kathmandu, Nepal, Mathematics major
"When I was in high school, I never thought of myself as a leader. However, I believe Westminster has the unique ability to make all students leaders in their own way. I have been fortunate to hold leadership roles in Kappa Kappa Gamma, Student Foundation, Student Government Association, and the Westminster Seminar Program. All of these opportunities have made me more confident and given me organizational skills, which will benefit me in my career."

Grace Clifton '14, Columbia, MO, Business Communication major

"Through Westminster's Capital Internship Program, I had several internship opportunities - working as a Legislative Intern for Pelopidas LLC, as an Arabic Case Management Assistant with Refugee and Immigration Services, and as a Coro Intern in Public Affairs. Each provided valuable experience that helped me to refine my career goals. Plus, they give me an advantage when applying to post-graduate positions, as I already have experience in the fields I'm pursuing."

Michael Applegate '14, Mountain Grove, MO, Political Science and Leadership major
Change the World

Whatever your vision, whatever your passion, you’ll be inspired at Westminster – like no other college can – to change your life and the world around you. This is a transformative education. Get ready to become the scholar, capable leader, and confident difference-maker you are meant to be.

Speaking of Excellence

In 1946, Winston Churchill delivered his famous “Iron Curtain” speech on the campus of Westminster College. Over the years, many celebrated world figures have graced our campus, speaking and meeting with our Westminster students.

Past Guest Lecturers Include:

- George Bush, Vice President of the United States
- Owen B. Butler, Chairman, The Procter & Gamble Company
- William J. Casey, Director of Central Intelligence
- Winston Churchill, Prime Minister of Great Britain
- Malcolm S. Forbes, Chairman, Forbes, Inc.
- Gerald R. Ford, President of the United States
- Mikhail Gorbachev, Soviet President
- Hubert H. Humphrey, Vice President of the United States
- Henry R. Luce, Editor-in-Chief of Time and Life magazines

Success Ahead

What lies ahead after a Westminster education? Great success. Over 96% of Westminster graduates have a job or are enrolled in graduate or professional school within six months of graduation – based on 88% of graduates from the previous year reporting.
Prepared to Succeed

One reason Westminster graduates are so highly sought after is they are so well prepared. And one reason they are so well prepared is our Center for Career Development. Working with a caring and helpful staff, students can take advantage of a wide range of career-related resources, including:

- One-on-one counseling
- Career assessments
- Resumes and cover letter writing
- Mock interviews and critiques
- Over 50 different workshops each year
- Online and print job postings
- Graduate school counseling
- A robust alumni network

IMMERSIVE LEARNING

- Education majors travel to Denmark to work in and observe Danish schools.
- Chemistry students make presentations at the Missouri Academy of Science and Midwest Regional American Chemical Society meetings.
- Business communication majors make full-scale sales presentations, which are evaluated by industry professionals.

A College Of Achievers — Says Forbes

In its first-ever ranking of Best American Colleges, Forbes magazine ranked 509 undergraduate institutions. With an emphasis on the outcomes, or success, of graduates, Forbes ranked Westminster College the 38th best college in America — the only Missouri college or university to be named among Forbes' top 50.
"While at Westminster, I participated in numerous internships, I took on multiple leadership roles on campus, I traveled to Peru, I also spent a lot of my time volunteering. Those experiences taught me important lessons about hard work, dedication, and working with others. Westminster prepared me well, helping me to develop the critical skills—writing, time management, organization, and others—needed to succeed in the fast-paced, deadline-driven magazine industry.

- Audrey Sharp ‘13, Managing Editor, LO Grills Magazine, Lake Ozark, MO

"Westminster provided me the skills and education I needed to succeed in life after college. The biology education I received has prepared me well for courses in dental school. The organization and time management skills I learned I use them daily here. And the critical thinking skills I acquired, how to solve problems and truly understand concepts, these skills have helped me immensely while at UMKC, both in clinical settings and the classroom.

- Michael Greaves ‘14, University of Missouri-Kansas City School of Dentistry

I have a deep appreciation for all that Westminster has provided me. The College offered an incredible amount of opportunities for personal growth and was always supportive. The academics were very demanding. I learned so much about self-confidence. And I was able to apply my knowledge and skills to real-life situations both on and off campus. If I could sum up my Westminster experience, three words come to mind: foundation for success.

LEADERSHIP: Our Emerson Center for Leadership & Service integrates the student life experience with the academic experience to create leadership opportunities all across our campus.

LOCATION: Fulton, Missouri, a safe, historic community of over 13,000 people. Fulton is centrally located in the state, with Kansas City 2½ hours west and St. Louis 2 hours east.

MOST POPULAR PROGRAMS: Business, Pre-Med (and other health programs) and Natural Sciences, Education, Psychology

PRE-PROFESSIONAL PROGRAMS: Westminster is known as a superb training ground for students wanting to pursue careers in education, medicine, law, computer science, and business.

TECHNOLOGY: Wireless campus. Every student room on campus is "tech-ready" with direct connections to all Internet, e-mail, campus network, phone, voice mail, and cable television. Wireless access is available across campus.

Affordable Westminster

Ranked as one of the top liberal arts colleges, Westminster is also an affordable investment. The Princeton Review has twice named Westminster one of the Best Value colleges and universities in America. Last year, more than 98% of Westminster students received some form of financial assistance, and our assistance package totaled around $2,543,000. It is our goal to make Westminster College affordable for you. To find out more, call our Admission Office at (800) 888-WCMO 9266 or (573) 592-5364.
